Press Club of Munich – The Media Network

Network

The Press Club of Munich is a non-profit organization. We do not pursue any commercial interests and have neither party nor organization affiliations.

The Press Club of Munich thrives on the dedication of approximately 700 members across all areas of news coverage in both journalism and corporate communications, including media professionals in the fields of business, politics, science, culture and sports as well as from the Bavarian Society of Young Journalists (NJB e.V.).

Located in the heart of Munich at Marienplatz, clubrooms are used almost daily to host events on current affairs featuring celebrity guests—from press conferences, debates and workshops to media conventions and receptions. Guided tours and excursions are offered as member exclusives. The Press Club of Munich ranks among the largest and most active in Europe, benefiting from the support of a sponsoring organization.

Clubrooms

An exclusive setting is provided by the multimedia conference room, which sits up to 100 people. Members use the Press Club to conduct interviews, network and as a retreat between appointments, enjoying access to the rooms after hours and free WIFI. The latest daily press is available in the lounge area with a view of City Hall.

Are you planning a press event and looking for a distinctive venue with good public transport connections? As a member, you can book rooms in this unique location at Marienplatz opposite City Hall at discounted rates.

Promoting Young Talent

The Press Club of Munich is extremely dedicated to nurturing budding journalists. Every year, the Club's mentoring program helps twelve up-and-coming journalists to launch a career with their dream job. Numerous alumni have made a name for themselves in the sector. The Press Club is also involved in MedienCampus Bayern.

Press Club Magazine

The annual Press Club magazine is brim-full of information, including photographs, interviews and profiles of media professionals as well as coverage of and commentary on social affairs.

Press Club of Munich Media Award

The Press Club of Munich confers this award once every three years. It recognizes journalistic work across all genres and media in which the City of Munich and its residents take center stage.

Mission Statement

The Press Club figures among Germany's media networks with the longest-standing traditions. Established in 1950 and acting both independently and without party affiliations, it puts current affairs up for discussion while offering background information on political, societal and scientific developments. The Press Club strives to serve as a forum for dialogue between media professionals and individuals representing the views of policymakers, science, business, churches and the sports community during press conferences, off-the-record conversations, round tables and book presentations.

Cooperation in the sphere of public relations adheres to the tenets of journalism: transparency, credibility, accuracy and relevance. Due to its international orientation, the Club also embraces colleagues from out of town and foreign countries.

Membership

You're a full-time media professional and would like to become a member?

If so, simply complete the application form (on paper or online) and send it to our branch office. Applicants require two Press Club members as sponsors. Please contact the office if you have any questions.

We offer individual, corporate and sponsor memberships. The Press Club's non-profit status entitles it to issue donation receipts.
